

This map illustrates the Yangtze River Delta region, a major economic hub in China. It shows the Yangtze River flowing from the northwest, through the provinces of Jiangsu and Shanghai, and emptying into the East China Sea. Key cities and locations marked include Shanghai (上海市), Suzhou (苏州市), Nanjing (南京市), and Wuxi (无锡市). The map also depicts the surrounding waters, including the East China Sea (东海) and the Yangtze River estuary. Various administrative boundaries and localities are labeled in Chinese characters.
